

Dear Colleagues,

It is my pleasure to inform you that the International Scientific Conference on Albinism, ISCA 2022, will take place online, November 16th-19th, 2022.

ISCA is a unique scientific conference organized by the Global Albinism Alliance and shaped to be a global forum to improve the health of those with albinism. It builds on the momentum created by the EDA (European Days of Albinism) conference series, which has been held every two years since 2012.

Registration and Call for Abstracts are now open on the ISCA2022 website:

<http://isca2022.albinismalliance.org>

Please note that the deadline for abstract submission is October 6th, 2022.

Looking forward to your scientific contribution to this conference,

Best regards,

Benoit Arveiler, member of the Global Albinism Alliance Scientific Advisory Committee.
